The Concept:

A small Island retreat, isolated, calm and exclusive

An island exclusive in its relationship with nature, perfumes and delicacies

An Island where one rejuvenates, in another world, in ones own rhythm without boundaries.

An Island without news, without television and without telephones (with the exception of your own which you may or may not turn on)

An island without constraints, dress codes other than a pareo and barefoot to enjoy the regenerative contact with the earth even in the bar!

An Island without noise other than the sound of the waves and birds and the colours of the sunset.

An Island where one takes care of yourself by the pure relaxation, sport, massages and a simple cuisine principally fresh from the sea.

An Island with a bungalow of your own, simple, snug yet cocooned from the outside world.

..... An Island for your own
